New Face at Planet Ocean

Surrey based Planet Ocean Ltd, is pleased to announce the appointment of Oliver Wardle as Sales Manager.

Oliver, who holds a mechanical engineering degree from the University of Portsmouth, joins us from DSTL. (Defence Science & Technology laboratory). Oliver has a background in marine technology and will be responsible for promoting the growing range of instruments and systems throughout the UK and Ireland. Terry Sloane, Managing Director at Planet Ocean says "Oliver will bring a valued new dimension to the team and his engineering background and previous experience means that he has an excellent understanding of the challenges that deploying high technology instrumentation into the harsh oceanographic environment bring".

Oliver will be with us at Oi-10 9-12 March London ExCeL, please come along and be introduced.

Oliver is married and lives in Farnham Surrey. He enjoys all outdoor pursuits especially kayaking, surfing and wind surfing.
